Rampaging crabs

The first time I saw a person with a prosthetic arm, I was struck by the ingenuity of the design. The arm was made of metal and had a series of joints that allowed it to move in a way that was almost human. I was fascinated by the way the person used it, and I was determined to learn more about it.

New trading system to help accelerate dovT

PHILIPPINE STOCK EXCHANGE (PSE) has announced the implementation of a new trading system to help accelerate the development of the Philippine capital market.

The new system, known as the PSE Automated Trading System (ATS), is designed to provide a more efficient and transparent trading environment for investors and market participants.

The ATS will be implemented in two phases. The first phase will involve the migration of all trading activities to the new system, while the second phase will focus on enhancing the system's functionality and security.

The PSE expects the implementation of the ATS to result in faster execution of trades, reduced transaction costs, and improved market liquidity.

Figure 1 consists of three bar charts labeled (a), (b), and (c), representing 14, 21, and 28 days post-infection, respectively. Each chart compares the number of eggs per gram of feces (EPG) between a control group (open bars) and a treated group (shaded bars). The y-axis for all charts ranges from 0 to 1000 EPG. In panel (a), the control is approximately 900 EPG and the treated is approximately 400 EPG. In panel (b), the control is approximately 800 EPG and the treated is approximately 200 EPG. In panel (c), the control is approximately 600 EPG and the treated is approximately 100 EPG. In all cases, the treated group shows a significant reduction in EPG compared to the control group.

When being alarmed is just . . .

For most, the alarm is just a sound. But for the owner of a home with a security system, it's a signal that something is wrong. And for the owner of a car with a security system, it's a signal that the car is being stolen.

Automakers ride crest of momentum for 2011

By David M.

The automotive industry is riding a wave of momentum heading into 2011, with automakers reporting strong sales and profits in the fourth quarter.

General Motors reported a record fourth-quarter profit of $1.1 billion, up from $800 million a year earlier. Ford also reported a record profit of $1.1 billion.

The success is attributed to a combination of factors, including strong demand for SUVs and trucks, and the implementation of cost-cutting measures.

However, challenges remain for 2011, including a weak economy and increased competition from foreign automakers.

Despite these challenges, industry analysts remain optimistic about the sector's prospects for the coming year.

Confessions of 'tiger' children

By Peter Dizon
The "tiger" parents of the Philippines are not the same as the "tiger" parents of the United States. While the latter are known for their strict discipline, the former are more lenient and more understanding of their children's needs.
